New Delhi: The Health Ministry will rope in private and semi-government firms to improve basic health care, union Health Secretary Lov Verma said here on Tuesday.

"The role of private and semi government firms has become very important to reach out to people in far off places and provide them health care services. The Health Ministry will approach the private and semi government firms for funding," he said.

Verma was speaking at a discussion on Universal Health Assurance for India organised by Public health Foundation of India (PHFI).

He emphasised that the ministry is trying to invest more in health insurance sector.

"Insurance has been one of the toughest call for the government. Till now only 1.4 percent of the GDP was invested in the health insurance sector. But this will soon be a priority for the government," he said.

"Even the Rastriya Swasthya Bima Yojna (RSBY) will be transferred from the labour ministry to the health ministry," he added.

Verma said that to make the citizens more aware, the health ministry has formed courses on public health and have submitted it to the Medical Council of India for its approval (MCI).

"The public-private partnership will be emphasised on every health care programme for the citizens in the country," he said.

Latest News from India News Desk

You May Like

Dimple Kapadia's Private Photos
iTimes

“Academic Art” Doesn't Mean What You Think
Mediander

Want to Improve Your Mileage? 3 Driving Tips
Zigwheels

7 Ways to Lose Belly Fat and Sculpt Your Abs
Womanitely

10 Places to Visit in Bangalore with Kids
Happy Trips

10 Selfies Taken Moments Before Death That Will Give You Goo...
Web Nir

As a mathematician and statistician this appeals to my inner geek
Financial Times

This Girl is Doing it All Wrong!
3D-Print Today

From The Web

From Jagran Post

Sponsored Links by Taboola
• Private Photos of Indian Cricketers (iTimes)
• 5 Worst Accessories For Your Car (Zigwheels)
• 20 Incredibly Fascinating Photos of the World are so Inspiring (Web Nir)

• 7 Exercises to Get Fit Fast and Transform Your Body (Womanitely)
• Places You Should Visit in Your Lifetime (Happy Trips)